DJ SACRILICIOUS

DJ Sacrilicious has been inciting dance floor riots since 2000. Today, he is quickly becoming one of the hardest working DJs in the city of Portland with a rigorous schedule of performances and mixtape releases.

DJ Sacrilicious' background as a classically trained musician lends to an artistic presentation and creative approach, but most of this is left "under the hood"—he simultaneously plays to both the tastemakers and the masses by introducing even the most heavily rotated pop music in a fresh and insanely danceable form. Most importantly, he plays by the credo "always focus on the girls."

With his ear to the music and his eyes on the dance floor, DJ Sacrilicious is a true performer who thrives off of the crowds' energy. After building his foundation in party rocking in the era of analog (with the scattered vinyl around his home to prove it),

DJ Sacrilicious has been an eager adopter of digital technologies and uses every tool at his disposal to hype the crowd. He is comfortable on the microphone, rocks exclusive custom edits and remixes, and also has a stable of signature live blends of crowd favorites mastered over time.

DJ Sacrilicious truly brings the party wherever he goes. His style of sexy fun and energetic dance music—infused with requisite classics—pulls in partygoers and draws an ever expanding base of dedicated dancers and music fans. In addition to his preferred open format, he can also cater specifically to the needs of the venue and prepare sets solely composed of house, electro, top 40 and hip hop adeptly and happily, as well as adapt on the fly.

He currently holds residencies at East China Town Lounge, and Grand Central Bowl and guests at Portland's other discerning venues.
